How is Lent going for you? I have to admit, I have found this to be one of the most challenging Lents I remember in a long time. After listening to Ernest Fokoue at Agape Latte a few weeks ago, I decided to only look for the way God is revealed in all those I meet. I was determined to fast from thinking about or considering the shortcomings of others. I tell you, this is much more challenging than I ever expected! It has made me realized how often I judge others and spend time thinking about things that are just not productive. It has brought to the surface that it is not so much what I say, but how I say it. It has helped me get in touch with my vulnerability and therefore consider the vulnerability of others...

If you find yourself struggling with Lent, or have not really committed to something yet, it's not too late. Listen to what God might be inviting you to do or learn this year. Make it the best Lent ever!

On a related note, I have been receiving in my inbox a Lenten "retreat" from dynamiccatholic.com - It comes each day in email and offers two short videos and a written reflection. I have loved considering these reflections. If you want to sign up, go to <http://www.dynamiccatholic.com>

Although we will be on spring break during Holy Week, we will have a service on campus for Good Friday at noon in the Allen Chapel. We will also have two services for Easter Sunday - the regular schedule, 10 am (interpreted) and 5 pm.

Have a great week. Know that we are here for you. Peace and have a great week!

...arms wide open...Happy Lent. Alice MN
